LOVE LETTER FROM Clesus

My Beloved,

Of all the people In all the countries In all the world Who have ever lived, Or ever will live --There is none like you.

All the wealth that has been discovered All the wealth that lies undiscovered, Combined, Would not even scrape together a down payment Towards equaling your value to Me.

I love you, mighty man of valor, And it was my joy to hang on the cross Just so that, One day, I could embrace you.

Love, Jesus
